Foreword

India has a rich tradition of nurturing the holistic development of children during their most formative years. These traditions provide for complementary roles for the immediate family, the extended family, the community, and formal institutions of care and learning. In addressing the first eight years of a child's life, this holistic approach — which includes the cultivation of sanskar which are passed on from generation to generation — has a critical and positive lifelong influence on every aspect of a child's growth, health, behaviour, and cognitive capabilities in the later years.

Considering the importance of the early years in a child's lifelong development, the National Education Policy 2020 (NEP 2020) envisioned a 5+3+3+4 curricular and pedagogical structure as providing a much needed focus on formal education and childcare in the country during the first five years corresponding to ages 3-8, naming it the Foundational Stage. Classes 1 and 2 form an integral part of this Foundational Stage, continuing from the ages of 3-6 years, in which a child's holistic growth is taken care of in Balvatika. An individual's lifelong learning, social and emotional behaviour, and overall health depend deeply upon the experiences gained during this critical Foundational Stage.

The Policy thus recommended developing a National Curriculum Framework specifically for this Stage, which would comprehensively guide the whole education system toward providing high-quality education in children's early years, thereby carrying this momentum forward to the other later stages of school education. Based on the principles and objectives enunciated under NEP 2020 — as well as on research from a range of disciplines (including neuroscience and early childhood education), on experiences and accumulated knowledge from the ground, and on the aspirations and goals of our Nation — the National Curriculum Framework for Foundational Stage (NCF-FS) was developed and released on 22 October 2022. Subsequently, textbooks have been developed to bring to life the curricular approach of the NCF-FS. The textbooks attempt to connect to the children's real life by recognising their learning in the classroom and the significant learning resources in the family and the community.

The approach in the NCF-FS is also resonant with the Panchkoshiya Vikas (the development of the five sheaths of human personality) as elucidated in the Taittiriya Upanishad. The NCF-FS enunciates the five domains of learning, i.e., physical and motor; socio-emotional; cognitive; language and literacy; and cultural and aesthetic, which map to the Indian tradition of Panchkosh consisting of five kosh viz. Annamaya, Pranmaya, Manomaya, Vijnanmaya and Anandmaya. Besides, it also focuses on integrating a child's experiences at home with the knowledge, skills, and attitudes that would be developed within the school's precinct.

The NCF-FS, which covers Classes 1 and 2, also articulates a play-based approach to learning. According to this approach, books form an essential part of the learning process; however, it is also important to understand that books are only one among many pedagogical tools and methods, including activities, toys, games, conversation, discussion, and more. This marks a departure from the prevailing system of merely learning from books to a more congenial play-way and competency-based learning system, where children's engagement with what they do and learn becomes critical. Thus, the book in hand must be seen as an instrument to promote a play-based pedagogical approach in its entirety for this age group of children.

The present textbook attempts to provide competency-based content in a simple, interesting, and engaging manner. The endeavour has been to make it inclusive and progressive by breaking several stereotypes through the presentation of text and illustrations. The child's local context, which includes traditions, culture, language usage, and rootedness in India and is central to students' holistic development, has been reflected in the books. An effort has been made to make it engaging and joyful for the child. The book integrates art and craft to help children appreciate the aesthetic sense inherent in such activities. The textbook provides children with situational awareness to understand the underlying concepts relating to them in their own contexts. Though light in terms of content, this textbook is rich in substance, providing varied experiences and integrating play-way methods of learning through toys, games, and a variety of other activities. It includes questions that will help children develop critical thinking and problem-solving abilities. Besides, the textbook has rich subject matter and activities to help children develop the necessary sensitivity towards our environment. It also provides ample scope for our States/UTs to add/adapt content with local perspectives in the versions that they may develop as per the recommendations of NEP 2020.

NCERT appreciates the hard work done by the committee set up to develop the syllabus and learning-teaching material for the foundational stage. I thank the Chairperson of this committee, Professor Shashikala Wanjari, and all other members for completing this task in time and in such an admirable way. I am also thankful to all the institutions and organisations which have generously extended their help and assistance in making this possible. I am especially thankful to Dr. K. Kasturirangan, Chairperson of the National Steering Committee, and its other members, including those of the Mandate Group, its Chairperson Professor Manjul Bhargava, and members of the Review Committee, for their timely and valuable suggestions.

As an organisation committed to reforming school education in Bharat and continuously improving the quality of all learning and teaching material that it develops, NCERT looks forward to critical comments and suggestions from all its stakeholders to further improve upon this textbook.

About the Book

Language is not only a medium of communication but also a vehicle for the continuous development of human beings. As per the National Education Policy 2020, language plays an important role in promoting national development and contributes to the development of a just society. This policy has given much importance to the development of language and literacy in the education of children as these create a foundation for the learning of other subjects. NEP 2020 focusses on developing the skills of learning to learn, problem-solving, logical reasoning, critical thinking and creative thinking along with language development at the Foundational Stage.

In consonance with the approach advocated by the National Curriculum Framework (NCF) 2022 and for Language Education and Literacy at the Foundational Stage, children learn concepts rapidly in their home language. Therefore, the primary medium of instruction would optimally be the child's home language, mother tongue or familiar language. Hence, here English is considered as second language (L2). Accordingly a communication-focused approach has been adopted in the English textbooks. The aim of this book is to enable the child to develop strong oral language skills (adequate vocabulary and oral expression skills) by the end of Foundational Stage. In addition to oral language development, written language is also being introduced to the learner in a gradual and sequential way. The textbook takes into consideration the curricular goals, competencies and learning outcomes mentioned in the NCF-FS 2022 and the syllabus developed for the Foundational Stage.

Children learn through observation, imitation and collaboration. They also learn through concrete experiences, using their senses and acting upon the environment; this has been kept in mind while developing the textbook. The content included in this book is drawn from the experiences of children and is suitable for their developmental needs as it provides ample opportunities for imagination, storytelling, art, music and play. The content is also supported with art-integrated and cross-curricular based activities which makes learning fun for the child as well as reflects the life of and around the learner. Both prose and poetry are centered around the themes of self and society, toys and games, health and hygiene, cleanliness, environment, travel, culture, national identity and patriotism and the values pertaining to Global Citizenship Education (GCED). Further, the textbooks also encourage the teachers to go beyond the content and use a variety of relevant learning-teaching material depending on the context and the cognitive appropriateness of their learners.

Illustrations are of primary importance and more so in a second language textbook, they are not mere add-ons to the textbooks, but are integral to it. Plenty of picture-stories as well as colourful and relevant illustrations support all the texts throughout the book to augment their comprehension. In addition to that, illustrations also provoke the learner's critical thinking.

The contents selected for learners are meaningful, engaging and provides scope for further discussion. Sight words are a crucial part of each poem and story to help the children with building their vocabulary. In Class 2, although instructed writing and shared writing constitutes a major part, independent writing has also been introduced.

An effort is made to present language-learning as a holistic process of thinking, listening, observing, speaking, reading, imagining and writing. So, a reading activity may be followed by a drawing task or an oral discussion or could be preceded by a discussion on a picture and so on. A variety of activities, tasks, songs, poems and stories help the learner comprehend and practice the concepts. These are done through various sections, like 'Let us Sing', 'Let us speak', 'Let us Read', 'Let us Draw', 'Let us Say' and 'Let us Write'. This not only helps the learner in the process of language acquisition but also builds up their confidence level.

The curricular goals (CG-as mentioned in NCF-FS) have been addressed in the textbook. CG 9.1 'listens to and appreciates simple songs, rhymes and poems' finds ample reflection in the action songs and engaging short poems given at the beginning of every chapter. Young learners are encouraged to think of rhyming words, which addresses CG 9.2. Words related to familiar objects and events from day-to-day life are found in all the lessons in this textbook. This is related to CG 9.7—'knows and uses enough words to carry out day-to-day interactions effectively and can guess the meaning of new words by using existing vocabulary'. Further, there are exercises provided for young learners to engage in meaningful conversation, which is very important in L2. CG 9.3 rightly addresses 'converses fluently and can hold a meaningful conversation'.

One of the highlights of the book is the focus on communication in each lesson/chapter/theme in the subsection titled 'Let us speak'. The objective of the activities is to encourage conversation and develop the child's confidence in speaking in English, so that the child will move progressively towards independent engagement with English language.

Activities such as 'Colour the hut' are examples of a series of instructions that the child needs to understand to complete a given task, as indicated in CG 9.4. Interesting stories in simple language are provided in the textbook in accordance with CG 9.5 and CG 9.6 which covers comprehension and narration of stories and identification of characters. A lot of exercises related to phonological awareness have been introduced at regular intervals throughout the book, to address CG 11.1. Phonological awareness is the ability to discriminate between similar sounding words. Since a child who is phonologically aware is more likely to become a successful reader, it was important to find ways of developing this awareness through tasks given in the textbook. Most importantly, children are encouraged to have fun and play with words.

One of the major recommendations of NCF-FS 2022 is the inclusion of knowledge of India. Indian values and traditions have been presented to the learner in an easily comprehensible and acceptable way. This has been achieved through aptly placed illustrations with Indian local games and Indianised form of Cricket i.e. bat-ball in ‘Out! Out!’, and with the simple yet meaningful portrayal of regional diversity in ‘We are all Indians’. ‘Little Drops of Water’, a short yet an important poem is reflective of the Indian value of cooperation and peaceful co-existence.

In Unit 1 titled ‘Fun With Friends’, children get a glimpse of having fun by oneself in ‘My Bicycle’ and the joy of playing a variety of games like Bat-ball, gilli-danda with friends during holidays

In Unit 2 titled ‘Welcome to My World’ young learners are exposed to a variety of verbs through the actions they do in ‘It’s Fun’ whereas ‘Seeing without Seeing’ sensitises them towards differently abled people. It also introduces the idea of belonging to home and beyond in ‘This is My Town’.

Unit 3 titled ‘Going Places’ focuses on the concept of travel and modes of transport—the journey of reaching school from the perspective of a young learner.

Unit 4 ‘Life Around Us’ brings forth the skill of observation, imagination and perception in the poem ‘A Show of Clouds’. It also includes a story of a fly that has forgotten its name.

The poem “The Crow” brings out the concepts of self-esteem and the idea of self in a subtle way. Hygiene and cleanliness is the central idea of the story “The Smart Monkey” which brings into discussion the necessity of taking care of oneself and of the surroundings. Chapter 8 focuses on regional and National identity, patriotism and togetherness. The chapter aligns with the Indian ethos of ‘Unity in Diversity’. The chapter ends with a short play on ‘Charkha’ and its association with Mahatma Gandhi.

Multilingualism has been interwoven into the tasks and activities with specific guidelines to the teacher, wherever required. This facilitates the learner to move progressively from the home language to English. It also helps to shift from teacher-driven classroom to learner-centric classroom.

This book aids in the holistic development of the learner. The chapters aim at stimulating development of socio-emotional domain of children, through poems and narratives related to their family, neighbourhood and community.

Language and literacy, physical, socio-emotional, aesthetic and cognitive domains have been integrated along with the development of positive habits to create a learning impression in totality for children. Development of Annamaya, Pranamaya, Manomaya, and Vignyanmaya kosha is an ongoing process which leads to the manifestation of Anandmaya kosha. The present textbook is a step in this direction.

In addition to the material provided in the textbook, teacher may also use the matter embedded in the QR code. Further, as suggested in 'Note to the teacher' sections given throughout the book, teachers are encouraged to use local stories, proverbs and objects in the classroom, as well as audio and video support from DIKSHA platform. The textbook is only one tool, learning needs many resources.

This textbook is not the only source of learning, children learn much more while observing the environment around them, talking to peers and elders including grandparents, making things of their interest, watching TV, playing with mobile, toys and games, listening stories, poems, doing projects, visiting places of cultural importance and travelling. Therefore, we, as teachers or parents, need to value this learning which goes beyond the textbook and try to map it with the competencies and curricular goals identified for this stage. Education of our children is seen as our collective responsibility.

Fun with Friends

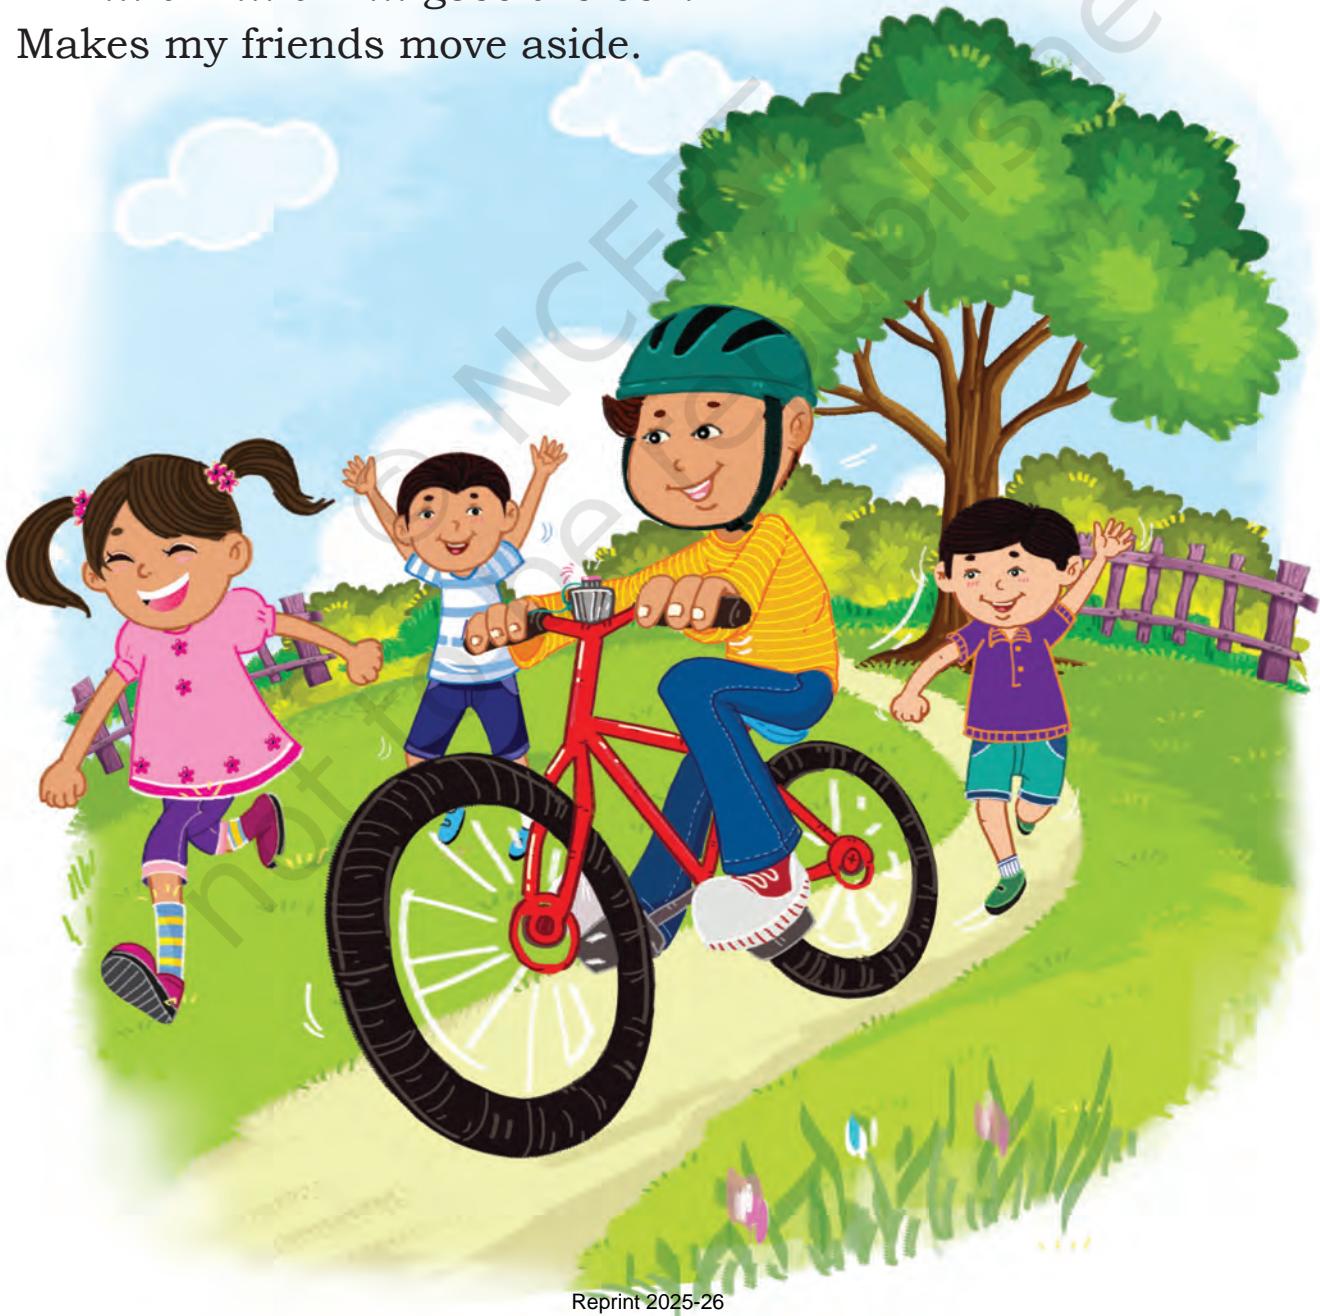

Chapter 1

My Bicycle

Let us recite

I have a red bicycle.
I pedal and I ride.
Trin... trin... trin... goes the bell.
Makes my friends move aside.

The seat is blue in colour,
The tyres and pedals are black.
Sometimes fast, sometimes slow,
But my bicycle is always on track.

To keep my bicycle moving,
All I need is some air.
I put on my little helmet,
And go happily everywhere.

Sight words
I | and | is | in | my

New words

pedal | aside | sometimes | track | helmet | everywhere

Note to the teacher

- Ask the children to describe a bicycle they have seen.
- You may initiate a conversation about safety measures such as wearing a helmet, putting on a seat belt, etc.

Let us speak

A. Share with the class

1. Have you seen a bicycle?
2. Where have you seen it?
3. What colour is it?
4. Who generally rides it?
5. Have you seen a tricycle?
6. Have you seen a wheelchair?

Note to the teacher

- Interact with children to elicit responses in English.
- Some children may not have seen a tricycle. Have a picture ready to show them.
- Sensitise children to the fact that senior citizens, the injured and the disabled need to use a wheelchair.
- End on a positive note that wheels aid in movement.

Let us listen

A. Listen to the sounds that your teacher has recorded on the mobile. Can you identify the sounds of different bells?

Note to the teacher

- You may download or record the sounds of various kinds of bells such as, the ringing of the school bell, bicycle bell, temple bell, etc.
- Pause after each sound to give children some time to reflect.

Let us speak

Read the words below each picture

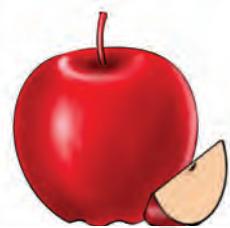

1

an ant

an axe

an apple

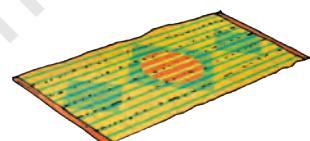

2

a rat

a cat

a mat

3 a pan

a man

a cap

Note to the teacher

- This introduces young learners to the vowel sound 'a' as in 'pan'.
- Help them notice that the word 'an' occurs before the words beginning with 'a' in the above table.

Let us write

- A. Write the names of the parts of the bicycle in the given boxes. You may use the help box for selecting names.

seat | pedal | wheel | bell | handle | carrier | brake

Let us think

A. Imagine that you have a magic bicycle. Draw it in the box.

What would you do with your magic bicycle?

Note to the teacher

- You may give children time to reflect about the idea. Initiate the talk in the class by asking few questions like — Where would you go? What would you do there? What would you see there? Help them visualise and speak their thoughts. The places may be imaginary or real.

Let us write

A. Complete the following sentences.

1. The child in the poem has a _____ bicycle.
2. The sound of the _____ makes people move aside.
3. The _____ and _____ are black.

B. Put a ✓ for the correct sentences and a ✗ for the incorrect sentences.

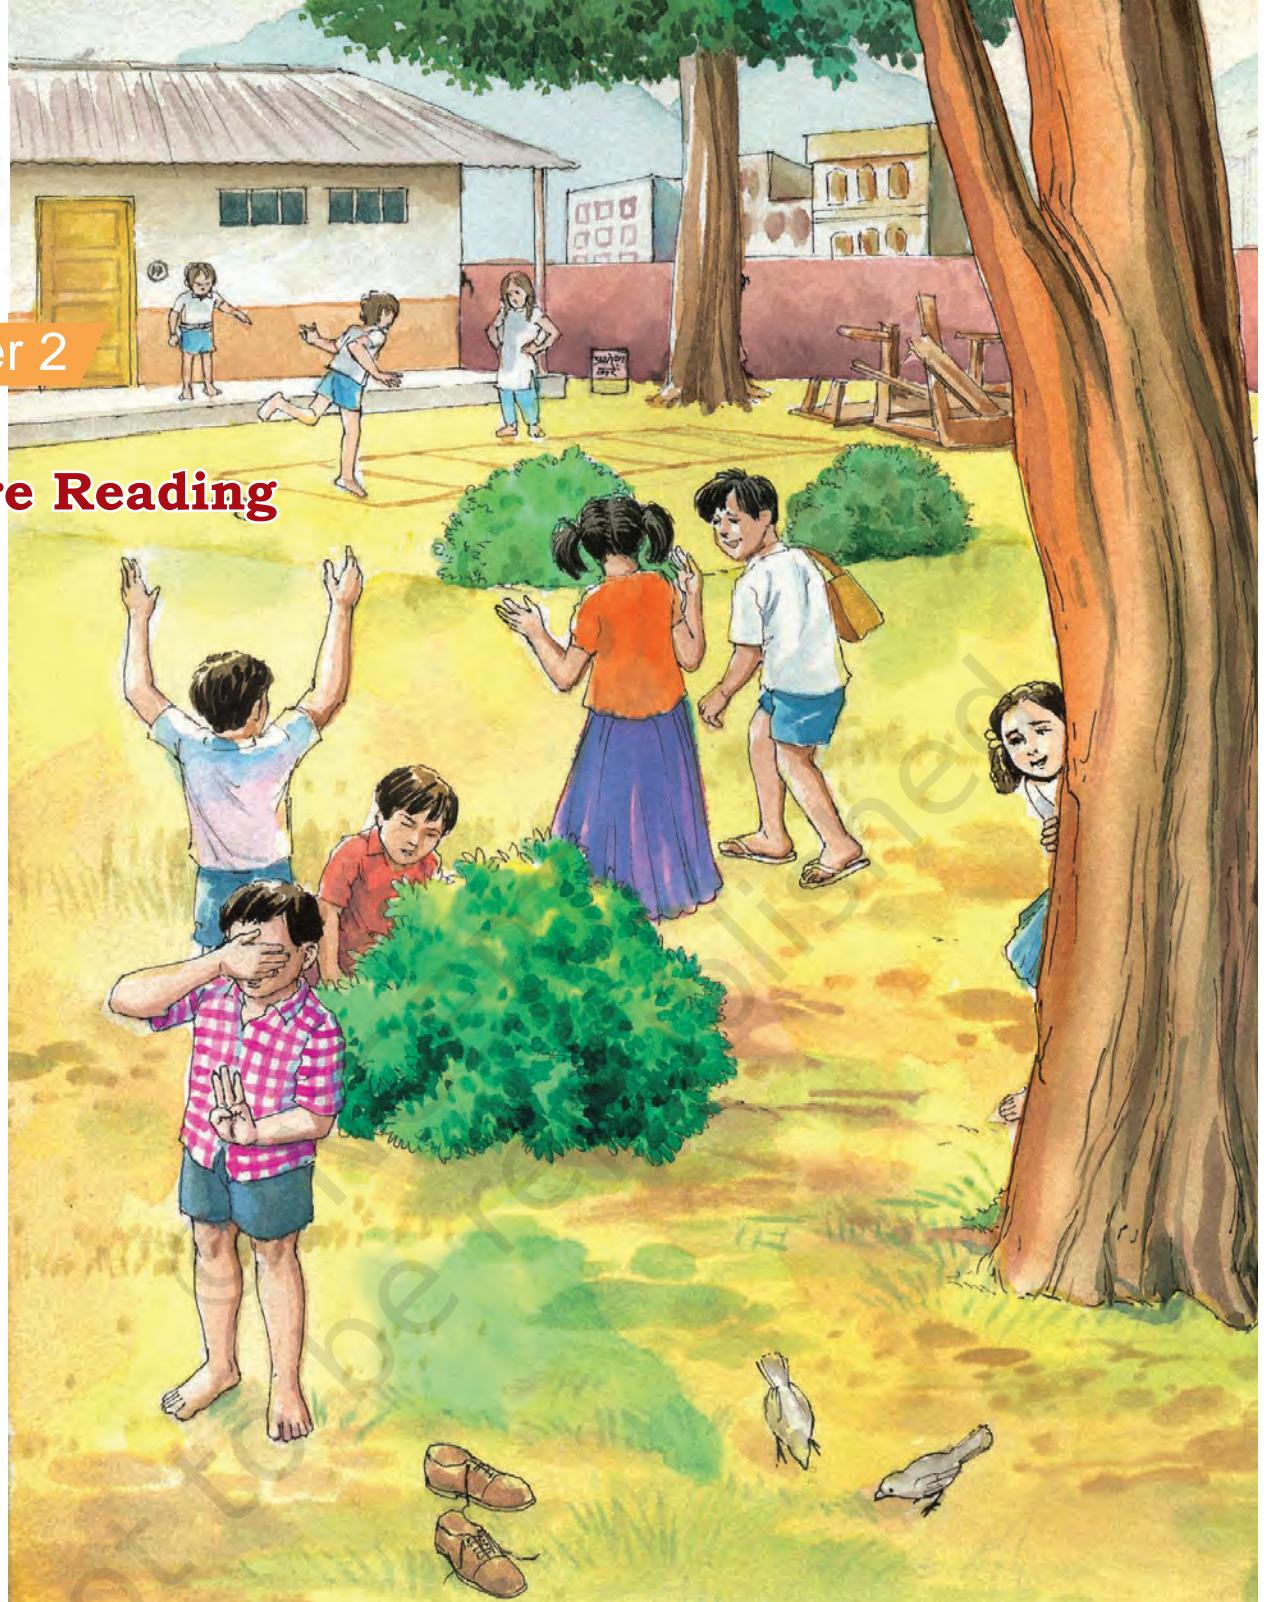

1. The child has a blue bicycle.
2. The bell goes trin... trin... trin.
3. The child's bicycle is always fast.
4. The child needs some water to keep the bicycle moving.
5. The child puts on a little helmet while riding the bicycle.

Chapter 2

Note to the teacher

- Give children enough time to observe the picture. Encourage all children to speak and answer the questions, even if they speak in their home language. Help them find English words.

- What do you see?
- How many children are there in the picture?
- What are the children doing?
- How are children having fun?
- What games do you play?

Let us read

OUT! OUT!

It was a holiday. Jeet and Babli were playing. They played many games. Both of them skipped the rope. They played hide and seek.

Babli and Jeet decided to play 'bat and ball'. Jeet got ready to throw the ball.

Jeet threw the ball. Babli hit the ball.

The ball went into
Mohit's garden.
But his house
was locked.
They could not find the ball.
So the game
stopped.

Sight words

This | a | how | also | they | after | and | of

New words

skipped | threw | courtyard | gathered | brought | picked

Babli knew how to make a ball. They got a few rags, paper and wool.

Babli also brought a piece of string. She rolled rags, paper and wool to make a ball.

Then she tied the ball with a string. They liked the new ball. The game started again.

This time Babli picked the ball. Jeet picked the bat. Babli threw the ball. Jeet hit the ball hard. The ball opened up and scattered in the air! Babli jumped and caught a piece of rag. She jumped and shouted, "OUT! OUT!"

Let us speak

A. Answer the following questions.

1. What games do you like to play with your friends?
2. Have you played 'bat and ball'?
3. Babli made a ball using a few rags, paper, wool and string. Have you tried to play a game using the things around you? What did you play? Name the things that you use to play. Talk about it in the class.
4. Read pages 10 – 11 of the story again and number the following sentences in their correct order.
 - Babli hit the ball.
 - Jeet threw the ball.
 - The ball went into Mohit's garden.
 - Jeet got ready to throw the ball.
 - They lost the ball.

Note to the teacher

- Encourage interaction using mother tongue/local terms.
- Speak about how things around us can be used to have fun, such as using an old bicycle tyre as a wheel and running after it with a stick. Encourage the children to use waste material and create something useful.

Read the words below each picture

an egg

an engine

an elephant

2

a pen

a pencil

a bell

3 a kettle

a hen

a well

Note to the teacher

- This introduces young learners to the vowel sound ‘e’ as in ‘pen’.
- Help them notice that the word ‘an’ occurs before the words beginning with ‘e’ in the above table.

Let us write

A. Read the story 'OUT! OUT!' again and fill in the blanks.

1. Write the names of the children in the story.

2. Write the items that the children used to make a ball.

B. Write the opposites of the following words. One has been done for you.

up

down

2.

in 3.

open

4.

fat

5.

hot

6.

small

C. Join the sentences using 'and'. Write it in the given space. One has been done for you.

1. Suresh went to school.

Gopal went to school.

Suresh and Gopal went to school

2. I like to eat mangoes.

I like to eat grapes.

3. The cat sat on the mat.

The dog sat on the mat.

4. This ball has yellow dots on it.

This ball also has green dots on it.

5. There are tables in my classroom.

There are chairs in my classroom.

Let us do

- A. Choose a partner. Imagine you both are Babli and Jeet. Enact the story. You may use some words from the story for dialogues.

- B. Ask your grandparents or parents to tell you about a game that they had played in their childhood. Find out about it in detail. The next day speak about it in the class.

Note to the teacher

- Activity A is a pair work. Help the children choose their partners. Provide them the required materials to enact the story in parts. Encourage the children to use English as much as possible.
- For activity B, ask children to learn about the games their parents used to play and tell the same in the next class in English. They may use some of the terms related to the game in their mother tongue.

Seeing without Seeing

Little Onshangla returned from the school. She opened the door quietly. She kept her bag on the table quietly.

Her mother looked at her.

“Onshangla you are very quiet today,” said Ava.

“Did anything happen in the school?”

“Yes Ava,” said Onshangla.

“A new boy came to our school. He sits in our class.”

“Yes?” said Ava, listening to Onshangla, and placing biscuits and milk on the table.

“The teacher helped him sit in the front desk,” said Onshangla. “He wears black glasses. He cannot see.

He will come every day. How will he do things?”

“Finish your biscuits and milk,” said Ava. “Then we will play a new game.”

“Yes, let us play,” said Onshangla.
She tied a scarf over Onshangla’s eyes.
“Now tell me what do I hold in my hand?” said Ava.

“How can I?” asked Onshangla.
“My eyes are closed. I can’t see.”
“You can find out,” said Ava. “Try it.”

Ava had a rose in her hand.
“What do I hold?” she asked.
Onshangla touched it.

“It is something soft... a flower!” she said.
“Yes,” said Ava.
“But what flower is it? Smell it!”
Onshangla bent forward and sniffed at it.
“It is a rose!” she cried.

“Good!” said Ava. “Now try another thing... What do I hold?” She held a small bell in her hand.

She shook it. Trin...Trin... “I know,” said Onshangla, with joy. “It is the bell. The small bell that gives such a musical sound. I can hear it, Ava!” Onshangla took the bell and shook it herself.

“Smart girl!” said Ava. Then Ava took a glass in her hand. “What is it? What do I hold now? Do you know?” she asked.

Onshangla touched it. “It is a glass,” she said.

She put one finger slightly into the glass.

“A glass of water!”

“Are you sure?” asked Ava. “It could be milk or juice.”

Onshangla tasted it. “Oh!” she cried, “It is not water, it is orange juice.”

Ava laughed.

“Good girl!” she said.

“Now I will remove the scarf. You must tell what is in front of you!” she said.

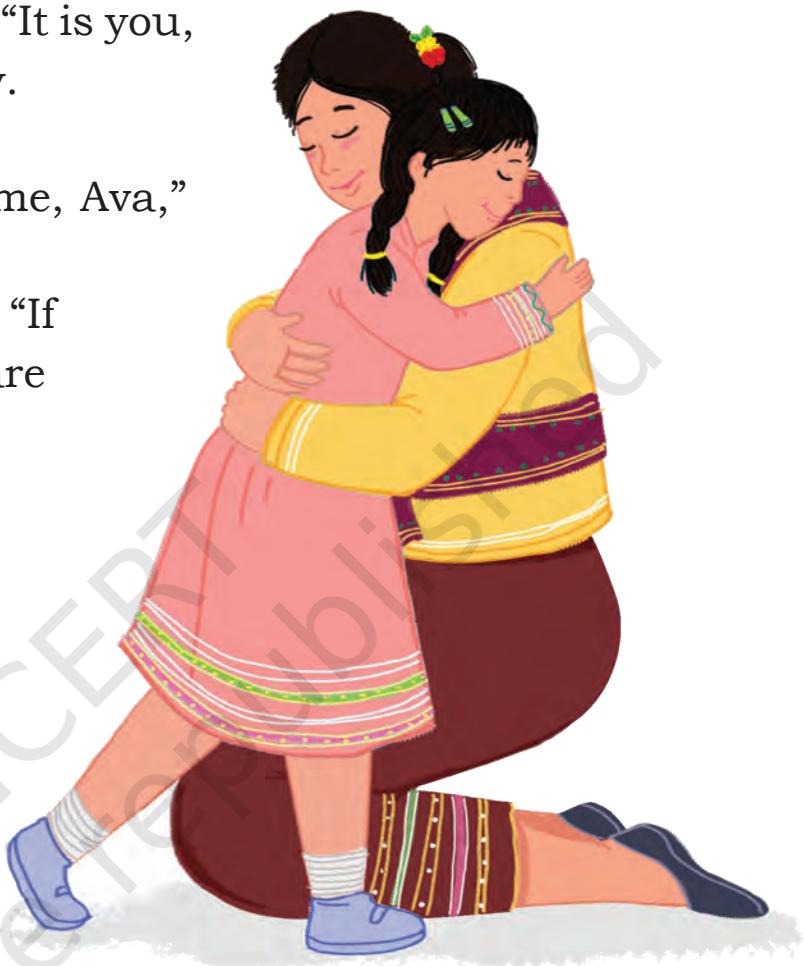

She took off the scarf. Onshangla blinked and looked at her. “It is you, Ava,” she shouted with joy.

“I see you!”

“That was a wonderful game, Ava,” said Onshangla.

“So, Onshangla” said Ava. “If a child cannot see, there are other ways of finding out things. But the child may have some difficulties. I hope all of you will be friends with the new boy.”

“Yes, Ava,” said Onshangla.

The Crow

There once was a crow.
He was black, as you know.
How to be beautiful,
he wanted to know.
Colourful feathers,
he wanted to grow.

He found one peacock feather.
He stuck it in his tail.
Then he found another,
He picked up all without fail.

He stuck them
in his wings,
Put one on his head.
I am now beautiful,
He danced and said.

The other crows
laughed at him.
“Oh, what a fool you are!
You are beautiful in black.
We love you for what you are.”
