Foreword

The Foundational Stage in school education, as envisaged by the National Education Policy 2020, serves as the cornerstone for the holistic development of children. It enables them not only to imbibe the invaluable samskaras rooted in our country's ethos and constitutional framework, but also to acquire basic literacy and numeracy. This foundation equips them to transition seamlessly into the more challenging Preparatory Stage.

The Preparatory Stage acts as a bridge between the Foundational and the Middle Stages, spanning three years from Grade 3 to Grade 5. The education provided during this stage builds upon the pedagogical approaches of the Foundational Stage. While the play-way, discovery, and activity-based learning methods continue, children are also introduced to textbooks and more formal classroom settings. This introduction aims not to overwhelm but to establish a foundation across curricular areas, promoting holistic learning and self-exploration through reading, writing, speaking, drawing, singing, and playing. This comprehensive approach encompasses physical education, art education, environmental education, languages, mathematics, basic science, and social science. This comprehensive approach ensures that children are well-prepared at both the cognitive-sensitive and physical-pranic (emotional) levels to effortlessly transition to the Middle Stage.

The textbook, Santoor for Grade 4, is meticulously designed to align with these objectives. It adheres to the recommendations of the National Education Policy 2020 and the National Curriculum Framework for School Education 2023. The textbook emphasises conceptual understanding, critical thinking, creativity, values and dispositions essential for this developmental stage. It incorporates cross-cutting themes such as inclusion, multilingualism, gender equality, and cultural rootedness integrating appropriate ICT and school-based assessments. The engaging content and activities are designed to captivate students and encourage peer group learning, thus enriching the educational experience for students as well as teachers.

It is crucial to remember the pedagogical focus of the textbook emphasising understanding, critical thinking, reasoning, and decision making. Children's innate curiosity at this stage should be nurtured by addressing their questions and designing activities based on core learning principles. While the play-way method continues, the nature of toys and games used for teaching evolves to enhance engagement rather than mere attraction.

While this textbook is valuable, children should also explore additional resources on the subject. School libraries should facilitate this extended learning, and parents and teachers should support their endeavours.

An effective learning environment motivates students, keeping them engaged, and fostering curiosity and wonder vital for learning.

With confidence, I recommend this textbook to all students and teachers at the Preparatory Stage. I extend my gratitude to everyone involved in its development, hopeful that it will meet expectations.

As NCERT remains committed to systemic reforms and improving publication quality, we welcome feedback to refine the textbook content.

About the Book

Language lies at the centre of human cognitive, social, and cultural experiences. It enables effective communication, which is integral to the formation and functioning of societies and cultures as emphasised in the National Curriculum Framework for School Education (NCF SE, p. 234).

The present textbook is designed in alignment with the visionary framework of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 and the National Curriculum Framework (NCF) for School Education 2023. At the preparatory stage, students develop proficiency in speaking and competencies in reading and writing in both languages—Reading in Language 1 (R1) and Reading in Language 2 (R2). While students achieve these faster in R1, they are expected to gain familiarity with R2, gradually progressing from basic communication skills to greater fluency and proficiency in speaking and writing.

To take children well beyond foundational literacy and develop a genuine interest in independent reading, the textbook draws from children's real-life experiences and reflects their cultural and social milieu. It is purposefully crafted to meet specific stage competencies and grade-based learning outcomes, ensuring alignment with core principles of the subject. It uses language appropriate for the grade level and provides support for unfamiliar vocabulary and complex sentence structures. Additionally, it incorporates digital elements and external references suitably within the material. The local context heavily influences content selection. The textbook aims to be engaging, striking a balance between visuals and text, leaning towards visually appealing material making it suitable for easy comprehension by young learners.

To foster oral skills, this textbook offers engaging learning materials that encourage students to converse with each other. The content features a range of activities such as reciting rhymes, singing songs, role-playing, etc., facilitating in-class practice. To enhance reading abilities, the textbook presents a diverse array of content, encompassing stories, poems, narratives, and a comic strip. It maintains a balance between familiar and unfamiliar texts and contexts. With large font sizes, colourful illustrations, and captivating chapter titles, it captivates student interest. The text stimulates critical thinking and sparks imagination, fostering curiosity. The content is structured to aid students in transitioning from guided to independent reading. For honing writing skills, the selected content systematically imparts writing proficiency. Students engage in activities that encourage independent practice, such as constructing simple sentences, encouraging creative expression, and skill development in writing.

All these are done through various sections, like 'Let us read', 'Let us recite', 'Let us think', 'Let us speak', 'Let us learn', 'Let us listen', 'Let us write', 'Let us do', and 'Let us explore'. They not only help the learner in the process of language acquisition but also builds up their confidence level.

Curricular Goals (CG) lay the foundation of every learning-teaching material. In line with the textbooks for Grades 1,2 and 3, Santoor (Grade 4) has been developed after careful consideration of the curricular goals. The curricular goals for language address the diverse needs of learners in a language classroom. Communication and comprehension are at the heart of every language and the same has been reiterated through CG1: Sustains effective communication skills for day-to-day interactions, enhancing their oral ability to express ideas. The book provides ample opportunities for learners to engage with the text and share their input. Sections titled 'Let us speak' and 'Think and answer' subsection of 'Let us think' present opportunities for students to be creative with replies and share with classmates allowing learners to engage with language in a meaningful way.

Similarly, CG 4: Develops a wide range of vocabulary in various contexts and through different sources has been addressed by incorporation of texts and activities that are not only limited to literature but also encompass content areas like mathematics and 'The World Around Us'. Activities and vocabulary pertaining to the same find a place in different units.

In Grade 4, although guided writing is the main component, there is a gradual progress towards making learners independent writers. This is in alignment with the CG 3 that develops the ability to express their understanding, experiences, feelings, and ideas in writing.

Reading as a process is not limited to decoding, says CG 2, which aims to develop fluency in reading and the ability to read with comprehension. The activities in Santoor are designed to evoke responses by the learners' reflecting their understanding of the text through the 'Answer the following' subsection.

One of the major recommendations of NCF-SE 2023 is the inclusion of knowledge of India. Indian values and traditions have been presented to the learner in an easily comprehensible way, for instance, the chapter on Maheshwar brings into light the rich cultural heritage, architectural magnificence, and the legacy of Ahilya Bai, inspiring appreciation for the history and traditions of Bharat.

The theme of the Unit 1 is 'My Land'. This unit encourages students to understand the importance of togetherness, honesty and road safety in building a strong, harmonious, and responsible nation. It begins with the poem 'Together We Can', which talks about the joy of togetherness, helping each other in times of need, and the power of teamwork.

Chapter 2, 'The Tinkling Bells', inculcates the value of honesty and a bond of love between Chinna and his pet. It introduces the young learners to the fact that one should treat other's belongings with respect, just as one would want their own to be respected.

Chapter 3, 'Be Smart, Be Safe: Road Safety Tips for Little Feet', is a guideline-based letter from the Traffic Police of Bharat to young students on learning traffic rules in a fun and effective way.

Unit 2, titled 'My Beautiful World', takes the children into the world of focus, wisdom and perseverance. It encourages them to pursue one goal at a time, gather insights from the timeless tales of Panchatantra, and be inspired by those who brought hope and light into the lives of others.

Chapter 4, 'One Thing at a Time', encourages children to focus on a single goal at a time enabling them to complete their tasks faster with better results. This approach also makes learning easier and more enjoyable.

Chapter 5, adapted from The Panchatantra, titled 'The Old Stag', teaches an important lesson about wisdom, love, and gratitude. It brings into light the fact that nature provides abundantly for all creatures, offering shelter and food equally, if used wisely.

Chapter 6, 'Braille', is about the life of 'Louis Braille', a Frenchman who lost his sight as a child. His invention of a special code using small dots made the world accessible for the visually impaired which brought new hope and possibilities for them.

Unit 3, titled 'Fun With Games', steers us into the world of health and fitness.

It begins with a poem, 'Fit Body, Fit Mind, Fit Nation', which is about children involved in various activities like hockey, skating, playing musical instruments, cycling, and singing. Balancing studies with fun activities helps them relax and unwind. A happy and active child grows with confidence and shine!

Chapter 8, 'The Lagori Champions', is about an intense Lagori match between the Sunderban Tigers and the Green Warriors. Both teams give their best performances. Read the story to find out which team wins.

Chapter 9, 'Hekko', allows readers to peep into the golden history of Nagaland, where this sport originated. Read on to discover more about this game of strength and power.

Unit 4 titled 'Up High' takes the readers on a journey of wonder, adventure, and heritage. It begins with the poem 'The Swing' which talks about the most pleasant things a child can ever do—enjoying the view while playing on a swing from a height. What fun it is!

Chapter 11, 'Journey to the Magical Mountains', tells the story of the bond of love and adventure shared by Minam and her grandfather, who was once a Sherpa. He takes her on an unforgettable journey.

Chapter 12 of this unit takes the readers to the majestic fort 'Maheshwar' built by Ahilya Bai of Holkar dynasty. Read to find out what else is interesting about the place.

Language and literacy, physical, socio-emotional, aesthetic and cognitive domains have been integrated along with the development of positive habits to create a learning impression in totality for children. Development of Annamaya, Pranamaya, Manomaya, and Vijnanamaya koshas is an ongoing process which leads to the manifestation of Anandmaya kosha. The present textbook is a step in this direction.

In addition to the material provided in the textbook, teachers may also use the matter embedded in the QR code. Further, as suggested in 'Note to the teacher' section given throughout the book, teachers are encouraged to use local stories, proverbs and objects in the classroom, as well as audio and video support from DIKSHA platform. The textbook is only one tool; learning needs many resources. Children absorb a wealth of knowledge by observing their surroundings, interacting with peers, elders like grandparents, engaging in hands-on activities, watching TV, using mobile devices, playing with toys and games, listening to stories and poems, working on projects, visiting culturally significant places, and travelling. It is crucial to appreciate and align this diverse learning with the competencies and curricular goals set for this phase. Educating our children is a shared responsibility that extends beyond formal textbooks.

THE TINKLING BELLS

0432CH02

Let us Read

Chinna was a little boy who lived in a village. He studied in grade 4. He was a bright boy who liked to read storybooks and learn new things.

He had many friends with whom he played. But, most of all, he loved to play with his little pet “kid” named Tara.

Tara was a five-month-old kid, milky white in colour. One day, while coming back from school, Chinna stopped at Chacha’s shop. He saw a pair of beautiful, shiny tinkling bells. He went inside the shop and politely asked the shopkeeper to show him the tinkling bells.

Goats under the age of six months are called “kids”.

"Ten rupees please," Chacha said.

Chinna liked the bells a lot. He put his hand in his pocket to take out the money.

He was shocked to find that his money
was missing. "Oh!
Where is the money
Dadaji gave me
yesterday?"

He searched all his pockets but couldn't find the money.

Feeling sad, he returned the tinkling
bells to Chacha and began walking home.

Chinna reached home. He removed his shoes and placed them in the corner. He went inside and dropped his school bag on the study table. He sat on the chair and rested his head on the table.

His mother Kamala, who had been watching all this, came to Chinna.

She asked gently, “What happened, Chinna?”

Kamala laid her hands softly on his shoulders. At once, Chinna hugged her and started crying. On seeing this, Kamla wiped his tears. After a while, Chinna told her about the missing money.

Kamla consoled him, saying, “I’m so sorry, dear. It’s ok, don’t cry. I’ll give you money to buy the bells. But, make sure to be careful with money in the future”.

Chinna smiled and said, “Sure Amma”.

“That’s my boy! Cheer up! Now, let’s go to the market to buy some fruits and vegetables,” Kamala said warmly.

Kamala and Chinna went to the market. They bought apples, mangoes, tomatoes and brinjals. Chinna also wanted pineapples. So, they stopped at the pineapple stall.

"What is the cost of the pineapples?" Kamala asked. "Forty-five rupees each," replied the fruit seller.

Kamala bought two pineapples and gave him a hundred-rupee note. She asked Chinna to take the change. Then, she went to other shops to buy some more fruits.

The fruit seller gave Chinna two ten-rupee notes. Hiding a mischievous smile, Chinna ran to his mother.

"Amma, do you know? The fruit seller gave me ten rupees extra by mistake. Can I buy the bells and some chocolates?" whispered Chinna.

"Chinna, that's very bad. It is stealing. How did you feel when you found your money missing?" asked Kamla.

"I felt very sad and angry!" replied Chinna.

"The fruit seller will also feel the same when he comes to know the mistake."

Now, be a good boy," said Kamala gently.

Chinna looked at his mother thoughtfully. He ran back to the fruit seller to return the extra money. The fruit seller was very happy. "You are an honest boy," he praised him.

Chinna ran back to his mother. Kamla felt pleased with Chinna's honesty and took him to Chacha's shop to buy the tinkling bells.

Chacha was about to close his shop. 'Wait!' called Chinna. 'Do you still have the bells?' 'Yes, I do' said Chacha. Chinna paid him ten rupees and they both happily walked home. The bells were tinkling in Chinna's pocket. Hearing the sound of bells, Chinna's pet kid Tara came running out. Chinna happily tied the tinkling bells around Tara's neck.

A baby goat is called a 'kid', just like a young child! So, when someone says, 'Look at that 'kid' playing in the field, they might not be talking about a human – they could mean a baby goat!

Let us Think

A. Answer the following.

1. Why was Chinna upset?
2. How did Kamala help Chinna feel better?
3. What did the fruit seller do by mistake?
4. How did Chinna manage to buy the bells from Chacha in the end?

B. Write 'T' for true or 'F' for false.

1. Chinna wanted to buy the bells to attach them to his bicycle. { }
2. Chinna's mother, Kamala, comforted him when he came home feeling sad. { }
3. The fruit seller gave Chinna twenty rupees extra as change. { }

Let us Do

Create your own bell craft, similar to the bells Chinna wanted for his pet goat.

Materials Needed (Waste or Recyclable Items):

- Small metal bottle caps (from used bottles) or small tin cans (cleaned and dried)
- String (about 12-15 inches for each bell)
- Old cardboard (for making a tag or decoration)
- Small pebbles, beans, or beads (for the tinkling sound inside the bell)
- Aluminum foil (for decoration)
- Markers, crayons, or paint (optional, for decoration)
- Glue or tape
- Safety scissors
- Hole punch or nail (with adult supervision for punching holes)

Preparation:

- If using bottle caps. Collect around two or three for each student.
- If using tin cans. You should have an adult help to make a small hole near the top rim of the can for threading the string and also ensure they are cleaned and dried.

Step 1 >

Place one or two small pebbles, beans, or beads inside a bottle cap or tin can. These will create the tinkling sound when shaken.

Step 2 >

If using bottle caps, glue another cap on top to seal it, creating a small bell shape. Use tape around the edges to ensure it stays closed. If using a tin can, the items can remain inside without sealing.

- Step 3 > Thread the string or yarn through the hole in the tin can or make a hole in the top of the sealed bottle cap using a nail (with adult supervision).
- Step 4 > Tie a knot at the end of the string to secure it, allowing the bell to hang from the string.
- Step 5 > Cut a small piece of aluminum foil and wrap it around the bell to give it a shiny, decorative appearance.
- Step 6 > Decorate with markers, crayons, or paint if desired. You can also add patterns, colours, or even drawings on the foil.
- Step 7 > Cut a small shape out of the cardboard (e.g., a circle, heart, or star) and punch a hole at the top.
- Step 8 > You can write your name, draw a picture, or colour the tag.
- Step 9 > Thread the tag onto the string above the bell, tying it in place.
- Step 10 > Adjust the length of the string as needed, and make sure the bell can dangle freely to create the tinkling sound.
- Step 11 > Shake the bells to hear the sound and enjoy your creation.

Road safety tips for little feet

0432CH03

Let us Read

Dear Children,

Namaste! How are you all? I'm sure you are happy and safe, and enjoying school. Some of you reach school on foot, some by bicycle and others by bus.

You may have noticed that there is often a lot of traffic on roads. Roads can be busy and, at times, dangerous. We, the traffic police, are here to keep you safe on the roads. So, we want to share some important safety tips to help you stay safe while walking on, or crossing, the streets.

By following these simple rules, you can keep yourself safe and help us keep the roads accident-free. Let's work together to make our roads safer for everyone.

Stay safe & be careful,

With Best Wishes,

The Traffic Police

Bharat

Rule 1: ALWAYS USE THE ZEBRA CROSSING

When you need to cross the road, look for a black and white strip which is known as “Zebra Crossing”. Look right, then left, again right to ensure that no vehicles are coming. Cross only when it's safe.

Rule 2: FOLLOW THE TRAFFIC LIGHTS

Traffic lights are installed on very busy roads to regulate movement. Wait for the pedestrian signal to turn green before crossing. Never run across the road. It's safer to walk calmly!

Rule 3: WALK ON THE FOOTPATHS

Footpaths are meant for pedestrians. Always walk on them and stay away from moving vehicles.

Rule 4: HOLD AN ADULT'S HAND

If you are walking near the road, always hold an adult's hand, especially while crossing the road.

Rule 5: USE REFLECTIVE STICKERS IN THE DARK

If you are walking on a road in the evening, stick some reflective stickers on your clothes, so that the drivers can see you clearly.

Rule 6: BE ALERT

Do not play or get distracted near roads. Also, avoid using headphones or mobile phones while walking near traffic. These can distract you from traffic sounds.

THE OLD STAG

0432CH05

Let us Read

In a lush forest lived an old stag who was known for his kindness. Each day, he warmly greeted his fellow animals and birds. Though the forest offered plenty of food, the stag preferred staying on a small hillock with tender grass.

The hillock was covered in soft, green grass, which the old stag enjoyed. Every day, he would come down to meet his friends, and all the animals and birds loved him.

One day, the stag fell ill. He struggled to reach the hillock. The stag knew that fresh, healthy food and proper rest would help him to get well soon, so he ate the tender grass and decided to rest for a while.

The old stag could not go down the hillock to greet his friends. His friends were worried. When they learnt that the stag was unwell, they came to check on him.

"Dear stag! How are you?" asked a deer.

"Too weak to come down and meet you all," replied the stag.

"Get well soon, dear stag!" said the deer.

The animals wished him a speedy recovery and left. However, before they went back into the forest, the animals ate the fresh green grass growing on the hillock.

"The grass is so tender and nice," said an elephant.

"I have never eaten such juicy green leaves," said a giraffe.

Word soon spread about the tender green grass. Soon, all the animals who came to visit the stag feasted on the tender grass. Anyone who came to visit the stag would also eat the grass.

Soon, there was not much grass left for the old stag to eat. He started becoming weaker as days passed. His friends felt ashamed. They realised how their greed had made them forget about their friend, the old stag.

They understood that not much grass was left for the stag to eat and recover. The animals decided to find food elsewhere in the forest and not disturb the hillock. Some of them also brought fresh leaves for their friend.

It rained well that week. The grass soon grew back, and the old stag had enough food once again. Slowly, the old stag recovered from the illness.

The animals learnt the most important lesson:

“Nature has enough for everybody. But we need to use its resources wisely.”

BRAILLE

0432CH06

Let us Read

Long ago, in France, a little boy named Louis Braille was playing outside his home. He was three years old. His father, a blacksmith, was working nearby. Louis started playing with the tools around him. Suddenly, a sharp tool pierced his eye.

He cried out in pain. Within a few days, he became blind in one eye. The other eye also got affected, and he became totally blind.

In 1819, Louis, who was ten years old, got admission in the Royal Institute for Young Blind Persons in Paris. He learnt letters by using wood, cloth or pins arranged in pincushions. Around this time, an army man named Capt. Charles Barbier de la Serre had invented something called ‘Night Writing’. It was an alphabet of raised dots and dashes that soldiers could ‘read’ with their fingers in the dark. However, it was too difficult and, therefore, not a success. But Louis, now a teenager, became interested in it and simplified it. He gave the world the Braille alphabet.

Thus, a blind person taught the world to see.

Braille is a method of reading through touch. As you can see in the figure, there is one Braille symbol for each of the twenty-six symbols (letters) of the English alphabet.

But Braille requires more space. This is because the letters cannot be written too close together. Since Braille requires more space, a Braille book is thicker than a regular printed book.

Braille is not just for people with blindness. Even people with sight can learn Braille too. Then they can write small poems and stories in Braille.

New Words

blacksmith blind pincushions invented

Let us Think

A. Answer the following.

1. Describe the Braille alphabet.
2. Why was 'Night Writing' not a success?
3. What did Louis Braille do to make reading easier for the blind?

B. Think and discuss.

1. You may have seen people with blindness walking with a white cane. Why is the cane always white-coloured?
2. Imagine that the world becomes dark for a day and there is no light. What difficulties might one face on such a day?

Let us Speak

Close your eyes. Pick an object. Keep the object back. Now complete the sentences and share them with the class.

1. The object in my hand was in shape.
2. The object in my hand was (longer/ shorter) than my forefinger.

3. The object in my hand was a

Now add two more lines to describe the object.

Note
to the Teacher

- Keep a box of items in class for this activity. You may include items that are commonly found around.
- You may write the above sentences on the board to facilitate the activity.
- You may also include adjectives related to those objects.

Let us Listen

Your teacher will read out the following words. Listen carefully and repeat.

spoon splinter spin splash speak split space splendid

Note
to the Teacher

- Put stress on the consonant cluster 'spl'.
- Repeat each word 3-4 times.
- Give learners time to familiarise themselves with the sound.

Let us Write

A. Write these words using the Braille alphabet.
You can paste “bindis”. One is done for you.

1. Cat

2. Man

3. Boy

4. Jug

5. Write your name in Braille.

B. Louis Braille lost his eyesight in an accident.

Some time ago, a newspaper reported that a child lost one eye while lighting firecrackers.

List the precautions that should be taken to protect eyes from harm.

C. Read the following sentences and notice the underlined words.

- Long ago, in France, a little boy named Louis Braille was playing near his home.
- The cats were sleeping when I reached home.
- Sameer was playing hopscotch last evening.

All the above sentences are examples of events that started in the past and continued for some time.

If the sentence is about one person, animal or bird, we use ‘was + action word + ing.’

Example: The student was writing in his notebook.

If the sentence is about more than one person, animal or bird, we use ‘were + action word + ing.’

Example: The students were writing in their notebooks.

The following sentences describe actions in the present. Change them to the past as shown in the examples.

Present	Past
I am sleeping.	I was sleeping.
The dogs are barking at the stranger.

Grandfather is searching for his spectacles.

Sheeba is writing a letter.

He is singing a song.

We are playing kho-kho.

The man is using his hands to push his wheelchair.

Note
to the Teacher

- Draw the attention of learners towards the words and phrases. These words indicate the past, e.g., 'long ago', 'yesterday', 'last night', etc.
- Help learners revise the simple past tense.

D. Look at the picture story.

Now fill in the blanks from the suitable options.

was clapping

was scattering

were sitting was hanging was entering was feeding

My friend Tarandeep told me an interesting thing yesterday. She her friends, the squirrels and the sparrows. She grains for them.

Let us Do

1. Take a piece of paper. With the help of a matchstick, or the back of a pencil, press hard on the paper to 'draw' a circle, a plus sign, or a letter of the alphabet. Now, close your eyes, turn the page over, and run your finger on the raised surface on the paper. Can you make out what the shape or outline is? Now, try the same activity with your friend. You may also use white clay for the same.
2. There are some children with low vision. (e.g., wearing thick glasses or holding a book too close to their eyes). Being a classmate and friend, how can you assist them?

For example:

Bringing a printout of a paragraph with large fonts to help them read.

THE LAGORI CHAMPIONS

Let us Read

Part I

Prakash : Ravi! How are you?

Ravi : I am fine, Prakash! Let's go and play outside; it's a sunny day.

Prakash : Yes, let's go.

(Ravi and Prakash went to the children's park near their house. A few children were playing there. They waved at Ravi. Ravi waved back and introduced Prakash as his cousin to all his friends. After playing for a while, they started talking.)

Guneet : Tomorrow is the Lagori match. We should include Prakash in our team; he's a good runner.

Deepa : Yes, he is quick.

Prakash : Will somebody please tell me what this Lagori match is about?

(Everybody looked at Prakash with great surprise.)

Guneet : Don't you know Lagori game?

Prakash : No, I don't.

Nidhi : Wait, I will tell you. Lagori is actually a game of seven stones.

Prakash : Seven stones game? How is it played?

(Imran joins them)

Nidhi : Look! Imran is here. He is also a champion of this game. He will explain.

Imran : In Lagori the seven flat stones are stacked one above the other. After that, one team knocks down the stones with a ball, and the other team tries to rebuild the stack while avoiding the ball thrown by the members of the first team or the opponent team.

Prakash : Oh! Okay, you mean Satoliya.

Deepa : What is Satoliya now?

Prakash : In Rajasthan, we call this game Satoliya.

Guneet : Wow! We learned another name of our favourite game. So, in our Sundarpur village, we call it Lagori, and in Rajasthan, it is called as Satoliya.

Imran : Now we know that this game is played in Rajasthan too!

Guneet : Do you know, Prakash, our Lagori team is called by the name of Sundarpur Tigers and our friend Deepa is our captain.

Ravi : No doubt! She runs fast!

Nidhi : Ravi, tell him about our opponent team.

Ravi : Yes, Prakash, we are playing this match with the 'Green Warriors' team from the nearby village.

Deepa : We have to tell Prakash about the game rules also.

Prakash : Yes, please do tell me.

Imran : The field is marked with a boundary. The players are not supposed to go beyond the boundary. Seven flat stones are stacked one over the other, in the centre of the field.

The Sundarpur Tigers began to rebuild the stack of stones. The Green Warriors took the ball and aimed to hit the Sundarpur Tigers. Ravi stacked two stones and ducked when the ball was about to hit him. Deepa added a stone to the pile while a Green Warrior threw the ball at Guneet and Deepa.)

Imran : Deepa, watch out! Here comes the ball.

Deepa : Thanks Imran! I dodged the ball just in time.

(Nidhi came running. She placed the fourth and fifth stones and ran away from the ball.

Ravi came running with sweat dripping down his face. He put the sixth stone in place. Only one stone was left to be placed. The Green Warriors tried one last time to hit Ravi with the ball. Before that, Prakash came and set the seventh stone on top. The final whistle blew.)

Referee : The Sundarpur Tigers have won!

(The match was over. The players from both teams shook hands and appreciated each other for a good game. The villagers clapped and cheered the teams. The Refree lifted the hands of both the captains and everyone celebrated with laughter and joy. The Lagori match had brought the villagers together, reminding everyone of the simple joys of teamwork.)

0432CH09

Let us Read

'Hek' means to challenge and 'ko' means tiger. Therefore, the word "Hekko" means "Challenging the tiger." There is a folk story in Nagaland which talks about "Aami" (The Man) and "Aakho" (The Tiger).

Story: Once upon a time, humans and animals lived together. They had a disagreement about their superiority. The humans challenged Aakho and the challenge came to be known as Hekko.

The people in the Mokokchung district of Nagaland play a game named Hekko, which is a well-known sport today.

Presently, it is played as a team game between two teams: Aakho and Aami. The strongest people in the village are identified through this game.

There are 11 players in each team. The toss before the game decides which team will be called Aami and which will be called Aakho.

To play, a circle is first drawn, and the Aami team has to stay within the circle by making a human chain, while the Aakho team stays outside the circle.

At first, two members of the Aakho team enter the circle and try to push the Aami players outside the circle. When an Aami player is pushed out of the circle, he is out and cannot enter again.

The Aami team also tries to catch the players of the Aakho team by surrounding them. When an Aakho player is caught, he is not released until he says “Joko” (surrender). When one player gets caught and surrenders, another player from the Aakho team enters the circle. Whenever a team gets a player of the opposite team out, it gains points.

The game of Hekko gets over when one of the following three things happens:

- All the members of the Aakho team get caught.
- All the members of the Aami team are pushed out of the circle.
- The time runs out.

The team with the maximum points wins the game.

The fastest player of the Aami Team is awarded the title of “Khozuba” and the strongest player of the Aakho team is awarded the title of “Khotiba”.

If you are hit by the ball, you are out. Can you guess the name of the game?

2. In this game, there are two teams. One player from the first team crosses into the second team's side while chanting the name of the game continuously without taking a breath! The goal is to tag as many players as possible and return to their side before being caught. If the player is caught, the other team scores. Can you guess the name of this game?

3. This game is played with two wooden sticks—a short one and a longer one. The goal is to hit the shorter stick and make it jump in the air, then strike it again to send it flying. Players measure how far the shorter stick travels to score points.

4. In this game, two children form an arch with their arms while others walk under it, singing a song. When the song ends, the arch drops, and the player caught joins in. It's a fun and rhythmic game played in many parts of India.

11 A JOURNEY TO THE MAGICAL MOUNTAINS

0432CH11

Let us Read

Once upon a time, in a small village at the foot of the mighty Himalayas, lived a young girl named Minam. She loved to listen to stories about the mountains from her grandfather, who was once a Sherpa. The two of them would often go on long walks together.

One sunny morning, Minam's grandfather said, "Minam, you have become strong, and you can walk for a long distance. Today, I will take you on a special journey to the mountains. We'll see the beauty of the Himalayas up close!"

Minam was excited and quickly packed her bag with some rotis with achaar, two water bottles, and her favourite fruit, apples.

They started their journey early in the morning. As they walked, Minam saw beautiful flowers, tall trees, and heard the sounds of birds she had never heard before. The air was fresh and cool, and Minam felt very happy.

After a while, they reached a small river with clear water. Minam's grandfather said, "This is where we will have our lunch."

They sat by the river, enjoying their rotis and watching the fish swim. Minam dipped her feet in the cool water and laughed with joy while eating an apple.

After their meal, they continued their journey. They climbed higher and higher, and soon they could see yaks. Minam's grandfather told her, "Yaks are very important to the people living in the mountains. They give us milk, wool, and help carry heavy loads."

As they walked further, they reached a place where the ground was covered with snow. Minam had never seen so much snow before! She and her grandfather made a small snowman. They laughed and played, making memories Minam would value forever.

Finally, they reached the top of a hill. From there, Minam could see the huge peaks of the Himalayas shining in the sun. It was a beautiful sight. Her grandfather pointed to the highest mountain and said, "That is Mount Everest, the tallest mountain in the world. Many brave people have tried to climb it."

Minam felt happy to be living near such wonderful mountains. As the sun began to set,

Minam and her grandfather started their journey back home.

On their way down, they heard the beautiful musical notes of a Santoor. It was played by an old man sitting under a tree. They also saw a family of mountain goats jumping from rock to rock. Minam's grandfather explained, "These goats are good at climbing. They can go to places where it's very hard for people to reach."

By the time they reached their village, it was getting dark. Minam was tired but very happy. She turned to her grandfather and said, "Thank you for taking me to the magical mountains. I will never forget this day."

Her grandfather smiled and replied, "The mountains are truly magical, Minam. They teach us about strength, beauty, and the wonders of nature. Always remember to respect and protect them."

Minam promised to take care of the mountains and share their magic with everyone she met.

MAHESHWAR

Let us Read

It was a pleasant evening. Aarav and Ananya were sitting with their Chachi. They saw a picture of a fort in the newspaper.

Aarav : Chachi! Do you know the name of this fort?
It looks so grand.

Chachi : (with a twinkle in her eye) Come here! Sit down. Well, the fort in the picture is the majestic Maheshwar. It was built long ago by Queen Ahilya Bai. This fort is famous for its overhanging balconies.

Aarav : (excited) A queen and her fort? Overhanging balconies?

Ananya : That is exciting! A real queen built the Maheshwar Fort?

Chachi : (smiling) Yes, dear! Queen Ahilya Bai ruled over Maheshwar, a place in Madhya Pradesh.

* Chachi: Paternal aunt

This place is just 95 kilometres away from Indore. She was a warrior queen who ordered to build a strong and beautiful fort on the banks of the Narmada River. This Queen had the fortress built on a hill, and from there, she could see her entire kingdom of Maheshwar. This fort is also known as Ahilya Fort.

Aarav : What was Queen Ahilya like as a ruler?

Chachi : She belonged to the great Holkar family, who ruled the kingdom.

She protected her people and built temples, schools, and wells. The fort she built has overhanging balconies that seem to float in the air. She ruled with kindness and wisdom and people loved her. A 13-feet tall statue of Queen Ahilya Bai stands even today in front of the palace, like a guardian watching over her land.

Aarav : (together) Tell us more about the fort, Chachi.
and Ananya

Chachi : (smiling) Ah, yes. The fort is known for its unique style of construction and grand staircases. It was made of special red stones brought from Gujarat and Rajasthan.

Ananya : (fascinated) Can we go there, Chachi? Can we see it?

Chachi : Why not? You will enjoy visiting the fort. You know, the fort is on a hill, overlooking the town of Maheshwar on one side and the Narmada River on the other. There are many beautifully designed temples near the fort.

Ananya : (excitedly) And what else, Chachi? Is there more?

Chachi : Yes, there's something special you will love! The people of Maheshwar are known for weaving the famous Maheshwari sarees.

They are made from cotton and silk, and the designs are so unique.

Aarav : (enthusiastic) So, the fort has overhanging balconies, statues, and temples! It seems like an interesting place to visit.

Ananya : Let us visit Maheshwar one day.

Chachi : Why not? Let's plan a visit soon. The fort is waiting for you to discover its secrets. One day, we shall explore it together.
